

A teenager you know

Describe a teenager who you know.

You should say:

how old they are (= how old he or she is)

how and where you met him or her (or, how you know this person)

what you and this person do together (or, what this person likes to do) what kind of person he or she is (his or her personality) and explain how you feel about him or her.

or

and explain whether you like or dislike this person and why

Part 3

Teenagers

- What would you say are the differences between teenagers and children?
- What are the differences between teenagers and adults?
- What are the differences between teenagers and elderly people?
- Can you think of any teenage behaviour that is (more or less) unique to teenagers?
- Would you say teenagers today have a good attitude towards elderly people?

- In what ways do you think teenagers today are different to teenagers 20 or 30 years ago?
- Would you prefer to be a teenager today or a teenager 20 or 30 years ago?
- At what age do teenagers begin to be treated as adults?
