

A Gift You Really Wanted

Describe a gift you received that you really needed (or, wanted).

You should say:

what it was

who gave it to you

why you really needed (or wanted) it and explain how you felt about it.

Part 3

Consumerism (Buying things)

- What are some examples of things that young people (in your country) typically buy (or, spend their money on)?
- When it comes to buying something (or not), are you ever influenced by other people?
- What do you think parents should say (or do) when their children ask them to buy something because their friends (or other kids) have that thing?
- Can you suggest why people sometimes buy things they don't really need?
- Do you think that's a problem?
- (If "Yes" to the question above) What do you think can be (or should be) done about that problem?
- Do you think consumption is important for a country?
- Does the government in your country do anything to encourage consumption?
